Si Kahn Feb. 11, 2006

We are proud to present Si Kahn in Concert as part of an entire weekend of Social Justice activities.

Feb. 11–12, 2006

Si Kahn has worked for over 40 years as a civil rights, labor and community organizer and musician in the Southern United States. His songs of family, community, work and freedom such as "Aragon Mill" "Gone, Gonna Rise Again" and "Wild Rose of the Mountain" have been recorded by over 100 artists. Si is the executive director of Grassroots Leadership which is celebrating its 25th Anniversary in November, 2005 Berrett-Koehler will publish of The Fox in the Henhouse, How Privatization Threatens Democracy coauthored with Elizabeth Minnich and co-released with Si's 15th CD Blood From Stones.

Si began his organizing career in 1965 in Arkansas with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, more popularly known as SNCC, the student wing of the Southern Civil Rights Movement. During the 1970s, he worked with the United Mine Workers of America (UMWA) during the Brookside Strike in Harlan County, Kentucky. He was an Area Director of the J.P. Stevens Campaign for the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union (ACTWU), now part of the Union of Needletrades, Industrial and Textile Employees (UNITE). He founded Grassroots Leadership in 1980 and has served as its executive director since.
