

Interweave Convo

February 24 – 26, 2006

Accepting Ourselves

Accepting Each Other

Clearwater is on the Gulf Coast of Florida—home to one of the top ten beaches in America. Temperatures in February range between 54° and the mid-70s.

Clearwater is accessible by major airlines using either the Tampa International Airport or the Clearwater/St. Petersburg Airport. Car rentals or shuttles are available at the airports.

Coming soon to our Web site will be a list of hotels accessible to the Convo site, an agenda for the weekend, and a list of workshops and leaders. Keep checking!

Come to beautiful Clearwater, Florida!

Congresswoman Sabrina Sojourner is the first open lesbian to be elected to the United States Congress. Having been elected by a whopping 83% of the vote, Sabrina represented the District of Columbia in the U.S. House of Representatives where in her non-voting position she lobbied for Statehood for the District of Columbia, but impacted other legislators on a whole spectrum of issues. Sabrina is also a nationally recognized educator on diversity and multiculturalism.

As past director of Diversity Programs and Woman of Color Programs for the National Organization for Women, she has developed a variety of programs, workshops, and presentations that focus on building bridges of understanding across differences, including race, gender, and sexual orientation.

A widely published author, Sabrina recently released a collection of poems and narratives, Psychic Scars and Other Mad Thoughts.
