&

Everything you need To know Scientifical

With Michigan university system retired biology Prof. Jim Strayer

Sat. Nov. 4, 2006 ~ 9:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m
UUSociety of DaytonaBeach Area

9:00-10:00 a.m. registration and light breakfast

10:00 a.m.- Religious Challenges to our Constitution

This topic comes to us from our very own past president, Jim O’Hara, who reports in the past year he has read of a Muslim community wanting to operate by their own rules---if a woman violated their principles, she could be put to death. Another community O’Hara reports, wants to limit residents to “Catholics Only.” Who better to facilitate this conference than Rev. Murphy, minister at the host church.

12 noon-1:00 p.m. lunch and social hour.

1:00 p.m. Everything you need to know ...

Several science teachers from all levels were asked to name the most important scientific principles they teach. Prof. Strayer will reveal the most important pieces of information they want passed on to future generations, and compare these to what we remember. Jim is delightful to hear as he explains science in layman’s terms for everyone to easily understand and appreciate.
